HONGKONG, SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1803.

THE MEMBER FOR JARDINE'S;

HISTORY often repeats itself-especially in Hongkong. At the annual meeting of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, held on April 8th, 1892, the Hon. J. J. KESWICK Was elected Vice-Chairman of the Chamber for the ensuing year, notwithstanding the fact that in his address to the members the Chairman, Mr. EDWIN MACKINTOSH, of Messis. BUTTERFIELD and Swize, made a direct charge against his colleague which, if true, rendered that gentleman quite unfit to hold any public position of trust colony-in Shanghai, if we mistake not- The servant replied: "The last gentleman elected Chairman for the current year, learn, he has neither disproved nor their Chairman a person resting under his constituents know, he has neither Suggestions for the improvement of this work | the stigma of a most damaging disproved nor denied "Tosa's" indictment. interests of Hongkong all the world over, Kaswick's high standing as local head of Wor. The sustained. Perhaps Mr. Kuswick gulte another and a different affair, and in August last his business partner, without delay a categorical and unqualified simed at the Vice-Chairman" of Commerce meeting, by Mr. EDWIN II so, he stands alone in colony's rights, for an ignoble purposethat of self-interest.

of careful preparation, said :--Yet another communication, with the Local was opposed to the prop sed legislation, yet the. Government d'elined to accept the opinion of those whose practical knowledge should have been a sufficient guide to them. They passed the measure without amendments of any kind, a measure which I have no hesitation in saying, for the purr ase it was intended, has no parallel in the United Kingdom or its colonies. Now what is the result of that legislation by the light of the present day? What most of us, I imagine, suspected. The legislation did not emanate from any real desire to surb gambling; but was actually the result of a combination of one powerful clique, against another, both deeply interested in share trafficking, one trying to corner the other. I don't want to touch old sores; those who suffer know their own bitterness and any attempt on m part to expose them to public gase would be most uncongenial. I only deeply regret that the interregoum Government then in office had not looked farther ahead and been guided by the advice tendered by this Chamber. Some mitigation of the distress might have then resulted from, "bulls" and "bears" finding a level by their own unaided efforts.

Mr. Mackintosn's impeachment of the honorable member's political honesty and good faith is couched in no uncertain terms, it is direct and to the point, and we cannot better define the true position than by quoting our remarks in an editorial which was published in the Hongkong Telegraph on the 18th of May last :-

Now no useful end would be served by attempting to disguise or under-estimate the very serious allegations against the Hon. J. Keswick contained in the foregoing references to | reconstruct, the genesis and special object of the motorious Share Bill, and as the matter at Issue" is one of great public importance we are somewhat surprized that, although over a month has clared. no steps have been taken either to contradict or controvert Mr. " Mackintowh's demning charges or to purgo the Hongkong inst. l'egistative Council of a member whose alleged conduct, if true, renders him unfi for what is, or at least is supposed to be. an honorable position. The Chairman distinctly said that the Share Bill legislation "did not emanate from any real desire to curb gambling, but was actually the result of a combination of one powerful clique against another. both deeply interested in share trafficking, one trying to corner the other." If that accusation means anything at all, it means that Mr. Keswick dishonestly made use of his position as an unofficial member of the Legislature to bring forward and force through the Council an ordinance that was not designed for the public interest but for the purpose of enabling the honorable member and the "powerful clique" at his back to bring to a successful issue a conspiracy-whether criminal or not we are not called upon to decideto "corner" another clique of share traffickers. That is, in plain English, exactly what the Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce publicly accused the hon, member for Jardine's of having been guilty of, and so far as we know, the accuracy of the charge has not been challenged. "I don't want to touch old sores," said Mr. Mackintosh, with that spirit of kindly magnanimity. for which people who know him curiously enough sefuse to give him credit; is those who suffer know their own bitterrooss and any attempt on my part to expose them to the public gase would be most uncongenial." If Saten ever laughe must be at hypocrites; they are certainly the I Jobson & Co. of Penang, was thrown off a horse greatest dupes he has, they serve him better than' in that settlement on the 23rd ulto,, sustaining a any other but receive no wages, and what is still | severe concussion of the brain, from which ! mortifications and inconveniences than the twenty-six years of age. sincerest Christians. Mr. Mackintosh's mournful affectation was almost sublime in its audacity. "I don't want to touch old sores t. those who suffer know their own bitterness "-and he had just a moment before vehemently enpirelated charge against the Vice-Chairman of the Chamber, a mem er of the Legislati o Council and an old colleague, although a rival in business, -a charke which, if allowed to go unrelated, will practically ruin Mr. Keswick's public career for life. Some forms of jobbery, common enough in all official experience, may be condoned; and husbed no. but this latitude hardly extends to a direct attempt successfully carried out to make our Legislative Council the alder and abettor of a clique of unscrupulous share gamblers who

Mr. Krawicz was absent from the the Chamber of Commerce unmasked his untenable; nevertheless the Telegraph is the Legislative Council, any jury must smith, T. Spatford, and V. Howell.

> THE most valuable product of the eucalyptus trees which are planted in California are, says a writer in Garden and Forest, the essential oil and certain medical preparations from the leaves. The distilled extract from encalyptus, which resembles in its method of production the wellknown distilled extract of witch hazel, has come into prominence within a few years. It is a concentrated extract from freshly gathered leaves of trees that are at least seven years old, and the older the better. It is used for most of the ailments where the oil has been used, and has the advantage of being cheaper. It has been recommended for headaches nervous affections. and as an antiseptic it has given good results when applied to fresh wounds, and for leflammation of the mucous membranes and insomnia; for cold in the head and sore throat it is of service, while as a disinfectant: it is useful from the fact that, like the oil, it substitues a pleasant odor for noxious ones. The oil has an established place in the materia medica, and there is evidently a field of usefulness for the distilled

THE way of the potato, according to a writer in Blackwood's Magazine, was said to have been barred by the Presbyterian prejudice that it was . never mentioned in the Bible. In the Lothians it came in about 1740, the year of dearth, from Ireland, but was confined to gardens till about 1754, when it was planted in fields about Aberlady. By the close of the century it was a general article of diet. Ramsay says that in 1750 George Henderson went for a bag of potatoes to Kilsyth, where the Irish method of field culture had I wely be in tried, and introduced the potato into Mentleth, where a few had been known, but only in kale yards. The old folks. however, did not take kindly to the food. Old George Bachop, one of the Ochtertyre tenants, when told by his wife that she had potatoes for supper, said: "Tattles | tattles | I never supped on them a' my days, and winns the nicht. Gie them to the herd and get me sowens." It is significant that Burns, who sang the praise of kale and porridge and haggis, has nothing to say of the potato.

COMPLETION OF THE WAGLAN LIGHTHOUSE.

By invitation of the Commissioner of Customs,

Mr. J. McLeavy Brown, a small party yesterday paid a visit of inspection to the new lighthouse which has just been erected by the Chinese Imperial Customs Service on Waglan Island, Besides the Commissioner and the Press there were Mr. J. R. Harding, M.I.C.E., Assistant Engineer soup, two birds, half a dozen plates of vegetables | in Lights Department of the I. M. C.; Lieut. F. Lindsay Lloyd, R.E., and Mr. R. J. Markwick. The party were then transhipped by boats which were drawn up underneath the stage and a landing was quickly and comfortably effected by means of a derrick. worked by two or three coolies. The north-east side of Wagian, the only one on which a landing. has been attempted, is fully exposed to the sweep of the seas brought in by the north-east monsoon; but a very workmanlike plan has been adopted By means of which material, etc., can be landed in almost any weather. This is a system of buoys, anchored a little distance out, and strong ring-bolts fastened in the rocks on shore : the lines connecting these are also attached to junks. whose position can thus be altered at a moment's notice. Wagian is distant from Hongkong some 12 miles and from Cape D'Agullar three. Cable communication has not yet been established with the first named place, although provision has been hours, and a guest who intends to sample made for it on the island and suitable accommodation provided. Considering the immense benefits which a telegraphic signalling station would cenfer on local shipping, and the comparatively tiffing cost of laying down this short cable, it is incomprehensible why the Hongkong Government has not availed itself of the opportunity which has been offered it by the Chinese Imperial Customs. The Wagian lighthouse will be a boon to shipping which perhaps only navigators themselves will sufficlently appreciate. But it would be a still greater boon if it were connected to this island by cable. As soon as the party had been landed they were gulded over the works by Mr. Harding. on whose plans and under whose supervision they have been carried out; assisted by Mr. F. W. Godell, clerk of works. A concreted zigzag road leads from the landing up to the buildings, which were all inspected in turn. DOES TERROR KILL?

Angulah of mind has driven many to suicide, anguish of body never. This proves that the health of the mind is of far more consequence; to our happiness than the health of the body, although both are descring of much more attention than either, receives. In protracted cases of disease it is the continual mental strain and worry that encryates and finelly undermines the whole system and destroys the vital spark. How many men apparently healthy to-day are lying in a cold grave a week hence. They are negligent of their health and think they can shake every attack off, the effect of such facilahness becomes opporent to every man sponer or later, and wise is he who never neglects the symptoms of disease but takes precentions, as did a gentlemen who writes :- I write to let you know that I am a patron of your wonderful Clements Toning I have been a great sufferer, and read of Mrs. Moller's ours in the newspepers, her case was nothing to mine, but, thank God | through her letter I am oneed, and after

Navarro (Mary Anderson) who is living use of Glements Tonie; I have suffered terribly from liver and kidney disease. Two years ago my strength began rapidly to decline, I had dull headache, completely lost my appetite, and was almost blind-(failure of sight is a symptom of Bright's discuso. Ed). I had tiger claw cramps in the calves of my diarrhos, strongth continued to fail, accompanied by extreme paller of the face, puffed under the eyes and persistent swellings of logs, knoos and ankles, and my whole body was awollen to a wonderful size; sharp shooting pains pierced the heart and frequently chills and favor would attack me. The swelling was so bad that I was afraid to even drink a glass of water. I consulted a doctor, and he examined my water, and his taid it was a bad case of liver disease, and also Bright's disease of the kidneys; he prescribed medicine and liniments with mustard baths. I said, "Doctor, if you will cure me, I will PAY YOU WHAT like to take a man's money," said he," without telling him the truth, and I will come to you at any hour of the night you may send for me." He thought I should soon die, I gave his treatment a fair trial but the swelling of my body increased so much that I had to remain in bod; the pains increased and extended all down the side, and my eyesight was now almost completely gone. I consulted another eminent medical man who, after sounding me and testing my uring said I had Bright's disease. I saked if he could cure me, he said be would do his best, and I would continue his medicine I should improve: dld so and it had but little more effect than water. Two friends of mine called my attention to Mrs. Moller's letter in the paper who had been oured of the same disease by Olements Tonic. I procured a supply, and taking it strictly in accordance with the directions, the swelling began to go down, I kept up the use of Clements Tonic, and now, thank God, I am cured, my swellings have all subsided, my eyesight is as good as ever. I took a good many bottles,: but that is nothing as TT HAS CURED ME, and I cannot describe its value.-Yours truly, Thomas Irvine, Tatham, N.S.W."
